ARTICLE No. 18

Did you ever stop to consider how many rubbers are lost by bad play? One very famous player is authority for the statement that four out of every five rubbers are "chucked"; that is, lost by bad play or bad bidding. This observation is particularly true of a long, close rubber where the cards are breaking fairly even. In such a rubber a close observer will notice many a slip before the rubber is finally settled. The writer was watching one of these close struggles the other evening and noted two hands, each of which, if played correctly, would have won the rubber. See what you can do with them before reading the analysis.

Hand No. 1
Hearts—Q, 10
Clubs—A, K, 7
Diamonds—none
Spades—K, 10, 4

Hearts—J, 6
Clubs—9, 3
Diamonds—4
Spades—7, 6, 2

Hearts—K, 4
Clubs—J, 5, 2
Diamonds—8
Spades—A, 8

Z is in the lead and playing the hand at no-trumps. He needs all the rest of the tricks for game and rubber. How can he get them against any defense? Z is in a position to force discards from B. That is the secret of the problem. Z should lead the eight of diamonds. Y should discard the seven of clubs and B the seven of hearts. Z should now lead two rounds of hearts, winning the second round in Y's hand with the queen. B follows suit on the first round of hearts, but what can he discard on the second round? If he discards a club, Y will play two rounds of clubs and then put Z's hand in the lead with the ace of spades and Z will make the jack of clubs. If B discards a spade, all of Y's spades are good. In either case, therefore, YZ must make the balance of the tricks.

Hand No. 2
Hearts—Q, J, 10, 9
Clubs—Q, 9, 6

Spades—none

Spades are trumps and Z, who is playing the hand, must take all the tricks to win game and rubber. The dummy hand, Y, is in the lead. How can Z so play the hand against any defense that he can take all of the remaining tricks? This problem is one where Z must shorten his trumps. To do so he must lead the queen of hearts from Y's hand. B should discard a club, for if he trumps YZ will win the balance of the tricks. Z, however, must trump this trick. In no other way can he win the balance of the tricks. He should then lead the ten of clubs. Y should now lead the jack of hearts. If B trumps, Z should overtrump and thus win the balance of the tricks. If B refuses to trump, Z should also discard. Z should continue the heart lead for two more rounds, discarding if B does. On the sixth trick B and Z each has two trumps, but Z has the tenace position and must win both tricks. This is a situation that comes up repeatedly and should be carefully studied. The trumping of a good trick to shorten one's trump holdings has been called the "Grand Coup," and is a play that all the experts love to brag about. Study over this problem and if you understand the principles and application you will be surprised how often you will have a similar opportunity.
